No fast solution seen in sailors' standoff

Manila, Phil. N. (AP) — The U.S. Navy and the Philippine Coast Guard are in a standoff over a U.S. Navy ship's request to enter Philippine waters to conduct a search for a missing U.S. Navy ship, the Navy said.

The Navy said the ship, the USS Zumwalt (DDG 1000), is a new class of guided missile destroyer. The ship is currently in the Philippines, and the Navy is looking for a way to get it out of the country. The Navy said it is not sure when the ship will be able to leave the Philippines.

Transcendental Meditation reduces congestive heart failure, new study shows

A new study published in the Journal of the American Medical Association (JAMA) shows that Transcendental Meditation (TM) significantly reduces the risk of congestive heart failure (CHF) in patients with a history of the condition. The study, led by Dr. David S. Black, a cardiologist at the University of California, San Diego, involved 1,000 patients who were randomly assigned to either a TM group or a control group. The TM group received instruction in the technique of TM, while the control group received no such instruction. After 12 months, the TM group had a significantly lower rate of CHF hospitalizations and deaths compared to the control group. The study also found that the TM group had a significantly lower rate of other cardiovascular events, including stroke and myocardial infarction. Dr. Black says that the results of the study suggest that TM may be a valuable tool for preventing CHF in patients with a history of the condition. He notes that TM is a simple, non-invasive technique that can be practiced by anyone, and that it may be particularly beneficial for patients who are unable to tolerate medication or surgery.
